Sheltering from the Ground Up:

Santa Cruz County's experience mobilizing care and shelter for people experiencing homelessness in a pandemic

Why choose to take on sheltering?

Existing vendors stretched to capacity

Able to mobilize quickly

Believed we would only be sheltering for a few months

Achievements

- Quickly opened 6 Project Roomkey hotels, 2 semi-congregate shelters, one outdoor encampment and one transitional age youth trailer shelter
- Developed new relationships and strengthened existing relationships
 - CBOs, Public Health, County General Services, IT, Personnel
- Mobilization of sheltering staff allowed for expedited launch of Great Plates
- Employed hundreds of community members who would have otherwise been unemployed during the pandemic

Achievements continued

- A new County Housing for Health Division launched and will carry work forward
- Increased and focused housing case management and rehousing support
- Limited COVID outbreaks among people experiencing homelessness (PEH)
- Built capacity among COVID shelter staff who:
 - Altered career directions
 - Are being hired by other agencies
 - Available for fire evacuation site deployment
- Increased understanding of the epidemic of homelessness
